JOE THE BOOK FARMER

MAKING GOOD ON THE LAND

GARRARD HARRIS

COPTRIGHT, 1918, BY HARPER & BROTHERS.

SYNOPSIS

oe Weston, fourteen years old, decides make a success of his father's run-ru farm. He reads the latest scientific kn Mr. Bomerville, a merchant, agrees Joe's father is pessimistic. He smeets t book farming and book farmers. Mr. smerville, struck with Joe's business bility and ambition, backs him is prise sersiby on the read linger to watch operate. The smeers that were in mee at first seen give way to looks arprise. Joe is showing them someas a farmer.

fades away. He watches Joe work. He sees him perform wonders with the soil. He soon is as enthusiastic as Joe. His surversion niceses Mr. Somervilla. Joe's corn is the wonder of the country-wide. With money he received from a commission merchant for his product he sarts a bank account, which he proudly shifting to his father.

There is a constant demand for the ceru fee is raising. In the prize competition for makes 138 bushels on an acre at a

It is announced that book farmer, won the first corn prize for its county. His father says, "Son, I'm powerful proud of ye."

Joe is overwhelmed with joy at receipt of a telegram that he also has won state championship. With the money he pays off part of the farm's indebtedness. He also wins trip to White House.

Joe describes to his mother and sie trip to the White House and his talk the president. Then he goes back to farm which now is the talk of the e meets Tom Raiston, a boy of about on age. Tom is from the north and quest of health. The Raiston boy's is wealthy, and Joe and Tom be-her is weathly, and see and John See fast Friends.

om Halston's father takes a great likto Joe and offers to back him and p him in every way. Joe finally acpts Mr. Ralston's offer of fifty loads of Joe buys his mother a canning outfit. His mother and sister are enthusiastic at the prospect of helping in the general money making scheme, and they start work with a will

CHAPTER XIIL

Mr. Raiston Grateful. EAKFAST at the Raiston home was over, and Joe Weston, Tom and Mr. Raiston were on the front porch, where Joe was preparing to take his leave. we've had a mighty good time, Mr. Ralston, but work time has No more frolicking until the crops are laid by," said Joe.

What's 'laid by?' ' inquired Tom. saxious to obtain information from his

"Laid aside, done with-worked and ed enough-nothing to do except wait for Nature to mature 'em." an swered Joe. "That is in late summer From then until fall there is not much to do except having or pulling fodder. "Look here, Joe. Anything I can do to help you?" inquired Mr. Raiston.

"You've showed me more fun than I ever had before. Can't I make some return?"

"Not a thing, Mr. Ralston, unless you'll sell me that fertilizer down in the cow lot and stable yard. There's about fifty wagon loads of it. I guess and I need barnyard stuff mightily." "What's it worth, Joe?"

"Scraped up and ready to load, I puess it's worth 30 cents a two horse wagon load. It could be better because it's been exposed to the rain and lost lots of strength, but it is better than nothing."

"How are you going to use it?" asked

"On those four acres I have been us ing for prize corn and truck. I'll pread it on the oats, then turn it un-

"Fifty loads ben't much for four neres, Joe," suggested the major, who and come out on the porch and heard the talk. "It's twelve and a half loads to the acre. That's a beap better than none. Pre got about twenty-five loads at home of a compost of rotten leaves and stable scrapings, full strength and saved under shelter. I'll use that too." "Tell you what," said Mr. Ralston "that stable and cow lot of mine need a good cleaning, anyway. I don't calto do any farming much this year-there isn't enough there to do any material good on my place here I'll just have the lot boys scrape that stuff in piles, and you can have it if you will haul it off."

"Oh, say, now—that's mighty fine of you, Mr. Raiston!" exclaimed Joe gratefully. "It will be a big help to me, because I'm needing stuff like that. I'm trying to cut the cost, and you've saved ist about $15 in expen

By George, I'll do better than that, I'll make the lot boy haul it over there for you. I want to see you win the prize this year!"

Joe Weston looked doubtful. It was a great temptation, for he had to sharge in all his time expended on the sere at 8 cents an hour and the use of a two horse team and wagon at $2 a day, those being the rules of the contest. Then his way suddenly appeared of $2.25 each were already beginning "Much obliged, Mr. Ralston, but I don't believe it would be just exactly right. I mean it would be actually helping me-that wouldn't appear on the record. It would give me a little advantage over the others competing. and I think I ought not to take it." "I guess you are right, Joe. Fight it out on the square, and in case of doubt let the other fellow take the dubious chance. That will win, anyway," said Mr. Ralston. The major nodded approval.

"I'll do that very thing, sir." responded Joe quietly.

Seems to me it would be entirely proper for you to take the stuff from me as a gift if I want to get it off my premises to get my lots clean. What do you think, major?"

"No objection in the world to that, It is just a case of where Joe is more fortunate than others in obtaining it. but he ought to haul it himself, I think. "That's the way I look at it." said

"All right, I'll start those two darkies today to scraping it up in piles, and you can commence hauling when you are ready," said Mr. Ralston.

"I'll begin tomorrow soon after daylight. "Oh, here now! That's too early!" objected Tom, who was to make his first actual trial of farm work when Joe started. "No, sirree-not when you are paying $2 a day for a team and fighting every cent of expense. Day begins at daylight and ends at dark. I'll get fifteen loads a day hauled-maybe

"Want me to help?" Tom was hopeful that Joe would refuse.

"If you are going into this thing sure enough to learn you better get a shovel and be on hand when I come over for the first load," answered Joe. "Tom will be there," interrupted his father dryly. "He's started this thing about wanting to learn farming; now he's got to keep it up." "Oh, I'm no quitter!" asserted Tom. getting red. "Had no idea of dodging. I'll be there, and I'll work too!"

"All right. See you later." Joe Wes ton mounted the pony brought to the good milk cows too," added Joe. front door for him and, waving a farewell, loped down the road toward feed an' humus to the soil and been home.

"Howdy, stranger? Light an' rest your saddle!" called his father, pre- cash itself, for we won't have to buy tending not to know him after his absence.

"Believe I will. Here, ma; here's a you." Joe handed over the bundle. Those squirrels will make a bully pie. and I guess you know what to do with that wild turkey." The game had been carefully cleaned and kept on ice in the big refrigerator at the Ralstons'. "Mighty giad to get 'em," said his "Looks to me like you've put mother. on a few pounds lately, Joe.'

"Wouldn't be surprised-at the rate I've been eating," chuckled Joe.

"We've been livin' pretty high our selves since you've been running with those Yankee millionaire folks," said Mr. Weston. "Bear, deer, birds, wild turkey, squirrels-and you gettin' paid for it too!"

"Well, come to think of it, the scheme is pretty fine. But, then, pa, think of all the hard years we've had-no fun and powerful poor eating," suggested

"That's so, and I've about come to the idee that the harder a man works the more fun he's goin' to have some time or other an' the more he appre ciates it when it does come." "Sorter looks that way, don't it?" agreed Joe. "Well, we've got to get pusy now. Come on, let's round up the calves and stock. I'm going to turn them in on the oats. Tomorrow I want the wagon and team. I start to hauling manure."

"Where from? The stable?" "No. Mr. Raiston told me I could have about fifty loads over there if I'd haul it off." "Say now, that's fine, ain't it?" "Biggest help to me I can think of,"

said Joe. "Well, you get on the pony and drive the stock up from th' paster, an' I'll open the gates. My, won't they have a picnic on them tender oats?"

The twenty-three calves Joe and his father had picked up for an average

"len't it wonderful, pa, how this busi-ness of progressing opens up one thing after another?"

to show the effects of good treatment and care. They went after the suc culent young oats, now something over shoe top high, voraciously, as did the cows and horses. "Ain't that a pair of little beauties though?" inquired Joe, indicating two fawn colored beifer calves.

"They are that-an' more than two thirds Jersey. They ought to make good milk cows."

"They're too fine to sell for beef. Le's just keep them and raise them And that black and white spotted one too," suggested Joe.

"Where'd you get that one? Looks to me like she's got a heap o' Holstein in her," said Mr. Weston. "Got her from that Walker boy, and she has got Holstein in her. Made me pay $3.50 for her on that account." "Well, she's wuth $10 of anybody's money as she stands right now. With two Jerseys and the old cow and this calf of the old cow's and a Hoistein we ought to be selling considerable butter in about three years-with what other good calves we can pick up. suggested Mr. Weston.

"I think so. And there's another helfer in that bunch that shows signs of Jersey too. I'm in favor of keeping

"Ain't no better breed in the world for furnishin' rich milk to make butter from. After while, when we're able, I'm for getting a herd of thor oughbred Jerseys," asserted Mr. Wes ton. "We can sell the butter at a good profit, and there isn't a better feed on earth for pigs and chickens than but termilk." "Ain't these farmers fools to sell them caives for a little or nothin' like they have done? Now, just look at this herd. Actually hasn't cost us $3 outlay for feed, except some cottonmeal for those scrawny, pore weak, starved little fellers. They won't cost us anything much next winter We'll raise enough stuff here to carry 'em through. By this fall a year they'll be wuth $25 aplece of any man's mon ey." Mr. Weston mused as he lenned over the gate and watched the contented cattle.

"We'll make something like $500 clear on the idea and get three or four

"Then think. We've returned the able to make many a ton of manure to build up the land. That is wuth $200 as much commercial stuff," suggested the older man.

"Isn't it wonderful, pa, how this bust half a dozen squirrels and a nice fat ness of progressing opens up—one little wild turkey hen all dressed for thing from another? And it is all so plain and so sensible and accordin' to reason."

"It sure is!" "And just to think, we haven't got started good yet, pa! Why, we're in the A. B. C class yet compared with those farmers up north and in the middle west. They are the best farmers in the world, I reckon."

"I guess they've forgot more things about good farmin' than we know, agreed his father, enjoying the sight of the calves as they reaped the young

"Speakin' of A. B. C's, Joe, I'm sorter pestered about your droppin' school like you have. Do you think it's a good idee, son?" Mr. Weston had of late become painfully aware of his own educational limitations.

"No, sir; but it couldn't be helped this year. Besides, I can read well and do read all the time, and I'm learning things. And, to tell the truth, I've got about as far as I can go in this little school here. That is a mighty poor teacher."

"Well, you can't expect much of a teacher at $35 a month. She does the best she can, I reckon," said Mr. Weston charitably.

"Looks to me like the state ought to pay more and get better teachers for the country schools. At any rate, I'm reading my school books when I have a chance, and reading these bulletins will help me. Education is knowing things useful to you."

"Who told you that, son?" "The president. He said there wasn't any more sense in packing a lot of useless junk around in your head than in hauling it about in a wagon."

"B'lieve he's right!" "I know he's right. I'm trying to educate myself to be a first class farmer. She wants to make me study chemistry-not agricultural chemistry. She wants to make me study algebra astronomy. I've got about as much use for them as that calf there has. Take yourself, pa. You see what you've learned from reading good agricultural books. Well, I've been learn

"If you get that scholarship to that agricultural school it'll be a big help to you."

"Yes, and along the line I want to learn. I'm going to win it too. You remember that."

"Competition's goin' to be flerce," warned his father. "Yes, but I've another scheme, and it's real easy too.'

"How, for goodness' sake?" "Well, it's simple. Just in making as much corn as I did last year, may be a few bushels more, but in holding down the expense in making it."

Weston looked at him inquir

"You see, I showed 'em how to make a big crop last year. It's easy. Just pile in the fertilizer after the ground has been well prepared and keep it worked good. And every boy is going to plunge hard on commercial fertilizer and nitrate of sods and potash and figure the cost." "I begin to see the point," grinned "Well, this contest is judged as much labor. They are not going to stop to on the low cost of producing the corn as on the amount. If I equal the best in the amount and beat them es the cost I win, don't 17" "That's business! That's business?"

enthused his father. "But you're bound to use s trate and stuff.

"Yes, sir. The land isn't rich enough yet to make a big crop without it. but every pound of barnyard stuff I put in it requires just so much less commer cial stuff."

"I'll belo every way I can. If you see where I can be of any use count on me." assured his father

CHAPTER XIV.

A, do you know anything enter high school at Louisa on he about canning stuff? asked Monda Joe after full justice had been done to the savory squirrel pie and well baked turkey hen, both of which Joe had provided.

"Powerful little, son. Why?" "Well, if you had a chance to learn would you?" "Of course, if I had a canning outfit and somethin' to can." "All right. Wait a minute." left the table and returned with a pamphlet out of a bundle of several the mail carrier had left that morning. Here it is, one of the government bulletins. Gives you the whole thing right here. If you'll just study this until you get it fixed in your mind I'll buy you a nice canning outfit." "That would be mighty nice and a big help next winter to have plenty of canned huckleberries and blackberries and plums and penches and things to make pies of. We'd live high!"

"I'm going to plant a lot of tomatoes and snap beans. Those that ain't fancy enough to sell you and sister Annie can pick and put them up. There'll be plenty of them."

on 'em, wife," suggested Mr. Weston. "I know what they pay for canned to matoes wholesale." "How much, pa?" inquired Mrs.

Weston.

"I'll bet you could make some money

"They pay the wholesale grocers 80 cents a dozen and retail at 10 cents a can-$1.20 a dozen."

"What do the cans and all cost to put 'em up?' persisted Mrs. Weston. "I don't know, except from the report of the Girls' Tomato club work. It says there that the cans and labels cost about a cent and three-quarters each and estimate cost of tomatoes and labor for each can at a cent."

Mrs. Weston did some mental arithmetic. "Even then there's a fair profit in it. The person who grows the tomatoes and puts 'em up gets the cent. Really, the cost is a cent and three-quarters a can, ain't it?"

Her husband nodded. "I'll bet you could sell many a dozen to boarding houses and hotels in town at a dollar a dozen. It would mean an additional profit of 20 cents for you and a saving of 20 cents for them over what they'd have to pay retail."

suggested Joe. "It looks pretty good," announced Mrs. Weston. "You get me that canning octfit, and I'll make a try at it."

"All right. If I win that scholarship I won't be here next spring, ma, and von can have my prize corn acre to raise tomatoes on, and it won't cost you a cent for fertilizer. It will be plenty rich. You ought to clean up a pretty nice pile."

"All my life I've wanted some way to make some money of my own," said Mrs. Weston. "Now I see the way. and I'm going to follow it. You men makers. Just watch Annie and me with my chickens and cauning outfit!"

"Tell you another scheme, ma. I'll set aside three nice spring pigs. You and Annie fatten 'em up and turn 'em into that fine smoked sausage pext winter. I'll bet you can make a lot on that too. "Well, that's a fine plan! Never thought of it. And I heard Mis' Allen in town complainin' that she couldn't get pure pork sausage from the butchers any more-they filled it up with beef scraps!" enthused Mrs. Weston.

"We'll try that too." "Isn't a bit of reason in the world why all the canned fruit and vegetables farmers buy out of stores shouldn't be put up on the farms. Save a heap of money," reflected Joe. "'Stid of that," chuckled Mr. Weston, "I see these here triffin' farmers a-buyin' canned termatters an' corn an' such an' haulin' it out where it ought to grow an' be saved." "I knows where there's a big pile of tomato cans behind the barn!" announced Annie proudly, trying to get into the drift of the conversation. The whole family exploded into a laugh. "I'm guilty, sis!" chuckled her fa-"Just as guilty as any of the ther. rest of 'em. but I was sort of hopin' nobody would throw it up to me." "We won't do it any more," assured Mrs. Weston. "You get me that canning outfit and I'll start practicin' on early vegetables-peas, beets and such. Then by the time tomatoes are ripe I'll be ready too. Can we afford it, though? Those canning outfits are dreadful expensive, ain't they?" she asked with some apprehension. "Oh, I don't know!" replied Joe eas-fly. "The one the Girls' Tomato clubs use, tested and recommended by the experts of the agricultural department, costs about $3.50, and the cans and labels a cent and three-quartersmaybe about a cent and a half if the label is not counted."

"My goodness! I thought a canning outfit would cost $20 or $25 or $50 or some such awful price?" she exclaimed

"I had no idee they were that cheap myself," said Mr. Weston. "And with em as easy to get as that, just to think of the stuff that goes to waste around these farms that could be saved!"

Continued on page 7.)

EAST FORK.

Rev. Odell filled his appointment at Trinity Sunday. The sick of our community, we are glad to say are improving. Myrtie Queen, after a visit to home folks Saturday and Sunday, returned to her school at Trinity Monday. Carl Ross and Vanna Shortridge were very pleasantly entertained by Georgia Riffe Sunday. Mrs. James McDowell, who has been very sick with pneumonia, we are glad to say is better.

Mrs. J. T. Fannin called at W. M. Curtis Jucca, one of Lawrence coun-

Miss Grace Belcher has been on the sick ist for the past week, but is able out again.

We are serry to learn of the illness of or fermer neighbor, J. H. Wood. and we hope for his early recovery. Mrs. F. M. Twinam of Columbs and Mrs. Ida Lockwood of Ft. Gay, W. Va., were called home on account of the illness of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Riffe. Dr. J. C. hall is kept very busy day and night on account of so much sick-

Harry Riffe made a business trip to Estep Wednesday last.
Several from this place are expecting to attend the quarterly meeting to be held at Ross chapel next Sunday, January 23. Neal passed through our com munity last Saturday en route to Ashland.

Author Queen called at Dave Burks Sunday Azel Holbrook, we learn is in the hospital after an operation for appen-John G. Morris of Rush, was calling on Georgia Riffe Sunday afternoon, SLABTOWN PETE.

EAST POINT.

Samuel E. Kelly and wife of New York, who have been visiting their father, J. S. Kelly, have returned home. W. L. Hatcher and wife and Dr. daughter, Mary Louise are home from St Louis where Miss Mary Louise has been attending medical college. Two other daughters are attending the same college. Misses Agnes and Margaret Auxler were at Paintsville recently. Miss Margaret will enter the S. V. S. soon. Letter from the family of Mrs. Margaret Chamber of near Logan, W. Va., states that she has been stricken with paralysis and is not expected to live long. She was born and raised in this county, being the daughter of Samuel Auxier, long since deceased, and therefore she has many relatives throughout the Sandy Valley, who will be interested in hearing from her. Will George of near Auxier has purchased a farm in Carter-co., and will move his family there.

John Wesley Mayo died at the home for the feeble minded and his remains were brought to this place and buried in the old Mayo graveyard near Hager Hill. Though a life long sufferer he had more. always been cared for by kind relatives until a few months ago he was sent to the home where he died. He was about seventy-two years old. Mrs. R. A. E. Leslie and children have joined her husband in Southeastern Virginia where Mr. Leslie has purchas-

He Tried Them All. Redd-Boating is a great sport. Greene So they told me. "And you tried it?"

"Oh, yes; all kinds." Which do you like best?" "Well, I don't know. You see, when I tried sulling half of the time we became becalined; then I tried a motorder nearly every trip."

"Why didn't you try rowing?" "I did." "Didn't you like that?" "Oh. yes, pretty well, but my wife

kers Statesman.

got tired rowing all the time."-You-

A Long Lost Cousin. An old Chinese scholar came for treatment to a hospital that was under the charge of a certain Dr. Woods The doctor asked the new patient his honorable name. The old gentleman replied that his unworthy name was Ling and added that he desired to know the doctor's exalted name. With a smile, the doctor said that his mean name was Ling (which is Chinese for

"Why?" exclaimed the Chinamar with fervor. "The same name! Now I recall that in the Han dynasty (B. C. 200) there was a big famine, and a part of our clan left China and were said to have crossed over the great eastern sea. They were never beard of again, but now I see they reached America." And greatly to the good doctor's amusement, he was greated as one of the family and cordially welcomed into the clan of Ling.—Youth's Companion

ed a fruit farm and located on same but Miss May will remain in Kentucky for awhile teaching at Plat Gap, and Miss Ruth continues as assistant postmistress at Paintsville.

Our school at this place will close Bob Auxier was a business visitor to Paintsville Monday.

SELL LAND THAT WILL MAKE YOU INDEPENDENT FOR LIFE.

300 A. 100 A. bottom, balance bluecrass pasture, some timber, 8 room house, barn 100-100, all kinds of out-buildings. These bottoms bring from 60 to 80 bu, of corn to the acre, on pike, one half mile to station, one mile graged school, and two churches, illage and stores. Price $12500, $5000.00 ash, balance easy payments. It is worth $20000.00, but owner has good eason for seiling. You can trade with 175 A., fine 9-room house, cost $2000 two years ago, fine water, most all the farm level and rolling, some hill. Fine fruit, on fine pike one fourth mile to graded school, church and store. Price $7500.00, $4000.00 cash, balance east payments. Owner wants to retire. 160 A., 46 A. bottom, two houses, on fruit, good barn and sile. Handy to good road, mail route, etc., plenty school and church. Price $5500.09, $3500.00 cash, balance easy payments. Owner almost blind reason for selling. 40 A., 25 A. fine bottom, balance hill. On good road, good house, fair barn andy and convenient. Price $2500.00 half cash, balance easy payments 55 A., fine 7 room house, good barn and all outbuildings, 25 A. bottom, % and all outbuildings, 25 A. bottom, % mile off the pike on good road, half mile to school, church one mile. Price $3500.00 $1000.00 cash. balance easy payments. Owner very old:

107 A., 29 A. level bottom, good 6 room house, fair barn, on good pike, handy to school and church. Price $2500.00, $1500.00 cash, balance easy payments. 86 A., over half level, 5 room house good barn, on pike, plenty fruit, fine lot of virgin timber. Will keep timber years to remove same, Price $2000.00. half cash, balance payments. has other business. 80 A. hill land, log house, on g road, some bottom. Price $1000.00, half cash, balance easy payments.

80 A., 15 A. bottom, plenty timber

at $500.00 on price of farm with two on this to pay for it. Price $1200.00, half cash, balance payments. I have at all times a variety of farms can sait any man if he is ready to buy. am the only land dealer that keeps a traveling salesman on the road. You may write to or call on Rev. V. E. Typart at Offutt, Ky. He is my sales man, or write to me or get on the train, come to Ironton, O., then take the D. T. & I. railroad for Bloom Junction, O. I live within one half mile of the Station If you write me I will meet you at the station. Trains leave Iron-ton, O., at 9 o'clock forenoon and at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Write me your wants, I will have my man call on you. I am not at Sciotoville any

FRED B. LYNCH, Bloom Switch.

FOR BALE.

A farm of over 1200 acres, fronting n Tug river for nearly two miles, in Lawrence county, Ky., opposite Webb station on N. & W. R. R. Fine river bottom, creek at I hill lands, including all mineral Large amount cas cleared and cultivatable. Title go Address FRED W. WALKER, Ky., or R. T. BURNS, Louiss, Ky. 8-21

FARMS FOR SALE

Farm, 18 acres bottom land, 7-ros dwelling house, on river, railroad and Farm, 65 acres, mostly in grass; house and barn, young orchard; three miles from Louisa. $1500.00. Farm, 50 acres, one mile from Fore Gay, W. Va. On railroad and county road and river. Good land. No he

About 35 acres fertile river bottom Also 100 acres adjoining Fort Gay Good grass land, six or seven acres of it level. Price $2,000. 17-2-6

F. H. YATES, Louise, Ky. FARM LAND FOR SALE

2000 acres of virgin land, Sciote-co. Ohio, timber removed some 10 years ago. Two to three miles of railroad station; Good schoels, churches and roads. Soil impregnated with lime, and grass takes naturally. Smooth, hilly land, 90 per cent of which can be run over with a mowing machine. Price $7.00 to $12.00 per acre; terms to suft purchaser, and in tracts 40 acres up. SCIOTO FARM LAND COMPANY. 16th St., Ashland, Ky.

SNYDER HARDWARE COMPANY. Funeral Directors.

Our charges are reasonable and we will supply with the sa areful attention anything required from the lowest priced to nest costly arrangements.